Student Progress Reports Issue

Some teachers are currently experiencing a problem printing reports for individual students. Specifically, they can select a class, but no longer have the option to select a student.
The good news is, they have fixed the student reports that are printed in student profile. Therefore, if you can't print a student progress report the traditional way, you can generate one in student profile. Helpful Tips

- Don't use Internet Explorer 7. If that is the version that is on your computer, try using Chrome or Firefox instead.
- Don't overclick. Buttons and links in MiStar only require a single click. In many cases, a double click will launch the site, or open the window twice. In most cases, this will cause problems.
- To print gradebook reports, you will need to use the menu that is on the top of the screen when you are in the gradebook, or attendance sections.
- Don't try to open more than one MiStar component at a time. If you have Student Profile, Gradebook or Attendance open and try to open one of the others, you will likely get an error message.
- There is help documentation available. Just click on the Help button.

Reporting Issues

When issues get reported, they get fixed. If it is a local fix, we will take care of it. If it isn't a local fix, we will submit it to Wayne Resa and they will fix it. For example, they recently fixed it so that the percentages display for the individual categories on student progress reports.

If you think there is an issue, notify your building contact or Teresa. We will diagnose the issue and find a resolution or report it for you.
